USP Repeats ‘Tour of Champions’ At Camp Perry National Matches.

USP Bore Paste conducted its second annual “Tour of Champions” during the 2006 National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio -- where more than 5,000 shooters gather to compete each year.

A manufacturer of quality firearm cleaning products for over 50 years, USP began this year’s tour as it did in 2005 -- with a dramatic firearm-cleaning demonstration for an enthusiastic group of young pistol shooters.

“There is no greater thrill than to watch these youngsters hone their shooting skills, while also mastering the basics of firearm maintenance and safety,” explains NRA Director of Education & Training, Bill Poole, who arranged for the training event.

“Our youth are our future,” added USP President, Lee Brown, who conducted the demonstration. “And USP is proud to be a part of their development.”

The USP Tour continued with attendance at the National Matches “First Shot Ceremony;” and visits to all of the U.S. military firearm maintenance and repair trailers -- including the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and National Guard -- to meet with their armorers and provide complimentary USP firearm cleaning products.

“These guys know how to keep firearms performing consistently and accurately whether it’s for competing or defending our freedoms,” continues Mr. Brown. “We commend each and every one of them for their service.”

The USP Tour also included a visit to Champion’s Choice on Commercial Row where company President, Chuck Pearson, and his father Homer who serves as General Manager, are displaying the new “USP Starter Kit” containing a convenient mix of USP’s most popular products -- which are used by competitive shooters, military personnel, law enforcement agencies, hunters and personal protection enthusiasts to optimize accuracy.

Founded in 1917 and based in Pittsburgh, PA, the USP Bore Paste Division of United States Products Co. manufacturers a full line of quality firearm-cleaning products including USP Bore Paste, USP Gun Cleaner/Degreaser and USP Gun Cleaning Oil.
