USP's 4th "Tour of Champions" Is Big Hit At National Matches

USP Bore Paste's 4th Annual Tour of Champions at the 2008 National Rifle & Pistol Matches in July was once again highlighted by company president Lee Brown presenting the customary packet of complimentary USP firearm-cleaning-products to the NRA's Junior Pistol Team -- as well as all of the U.S. military and civilian armorers who man their mobile gunsmithing stations to maintain firearms for their respective teams.

"Our products have been optimizing accuracy for the world's competitive shooters and hunters for over 50 years now," explained USP President, Lee Brown. "So we make sure all of America's great service teams receive their share of our products each year -- just to keep it fair!"

USP also was on hand for the lively "First Shot Ceremony" where Mr. Brown had the pleasure of meeting up with keynote speaker, NRA President John Sigler -- as well as NRA 1st VP Ron Schmeitz, NRA ILS Rep. John Hohenwarter and National Matches Director Mike Krei.

"It's always such a great pleasure to meet up with people who are so dedicated to supporting and preserving our country's hunting and shooting sports heritage," added Mr. Brown. "We would not be here without their unwavering commitment to America's most precious 2nd Amendment Rights."

As usual, USP concluded its annual Tour of Champions with visits to the wide range of vendors along Commercial Row who provide a vast array of firearms and accessories, including USP products, to the nearly 6,000 people who compete in this historic "World Series of the Shooting Sports" dating back to 1907.

Founded in 1917 and based in Pittsburgh, Pa., USP manufactures a full line of premium firearm-cleaning products including USP Bore Paste, USP Gun Cleaning Oil and USP Gun Cleaner/Degreaser. For ordering and dealer information, please visit uspborepaste.com or contact Bill Gruber at 412-551-2005.
